Artista guests are inspiring, accomplished women of all ages and backgrounds who are looking to treat their minds and souls to a unique, shared experience. Ages range from 24 to 70, with most guests between 40 and 65. Doctors, writers, scientists, moms, lawyers, teachers, entrepreneurs and retirees attend Artista.

They have one thing in common; their desire to discover or rediscover their own creativity. Other common interests are a love of color, fabrics, gardening, decorating, crafting and outdoor activities. Many women have dabbled in different types of art over the years and many had lifelong dreams of painting.

In the end, most women sacrificed their own artistic ambitions for other priorities like family and career. By the time they find us, women are ready to let their creativity run free, and more importantly, do something nice for themselves.

"Painting has really helped me to take life slower and to make sure I start enjoying the things that we hold in our hearts."
